

How Pecks

got

her name

A Pecks the Hen book from Exmoor Zoo

Widgit Symbols © Widgit Software 2002 - 2021

Pecks the hen

lives

at a

zoo.

One day

Boots

the

zookeeper

found

and

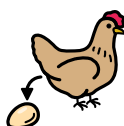

egg.

A chicken

had

laid

it

and

left it.

It was

winter

and

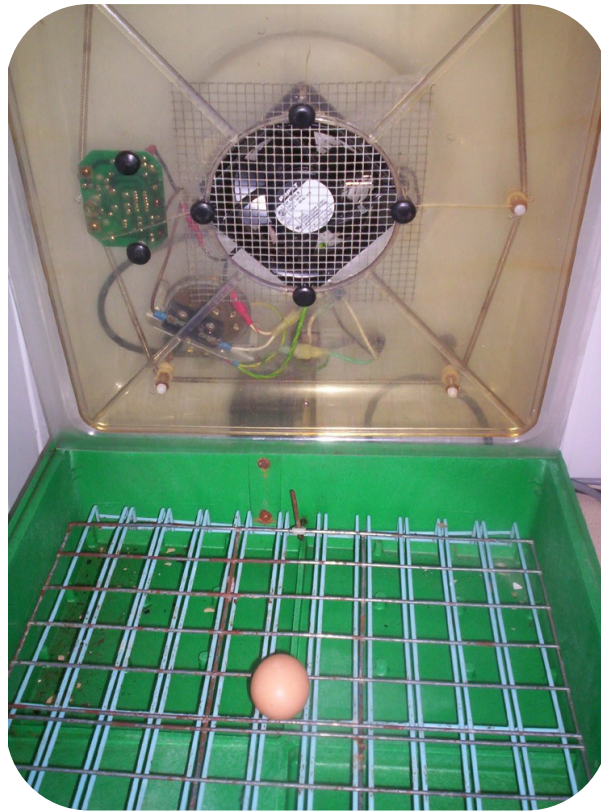

the egg

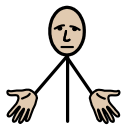

was cold.

Eggs

need

to be

warm

to

hatch.

Boots

put

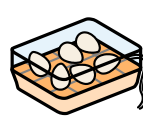

the egg

in

an

incubator.

Incubators

keep

eggs

warm.

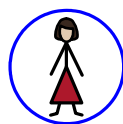

Incubators

do

a

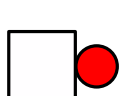

mother

birds

job.

After 30 days the egg hatched.

=

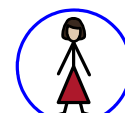

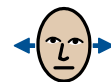

It was Christmas Day at the zoo.

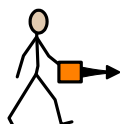

=

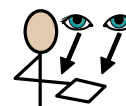

+

The chick was small and had no mum.

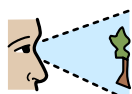

+

Boots took the chick home and showed Mrs Boots.

Mrs Boots

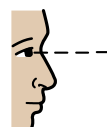

saw

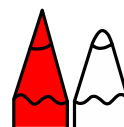

the chicks

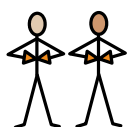

beak.

It looked

sharp.

"We

will

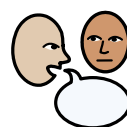

call

her

Pecks"

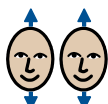

said

Mrs Boots.

Boots

agreed.

Pecks

is

grown up

now.

Her

Birthday's

Christmas!